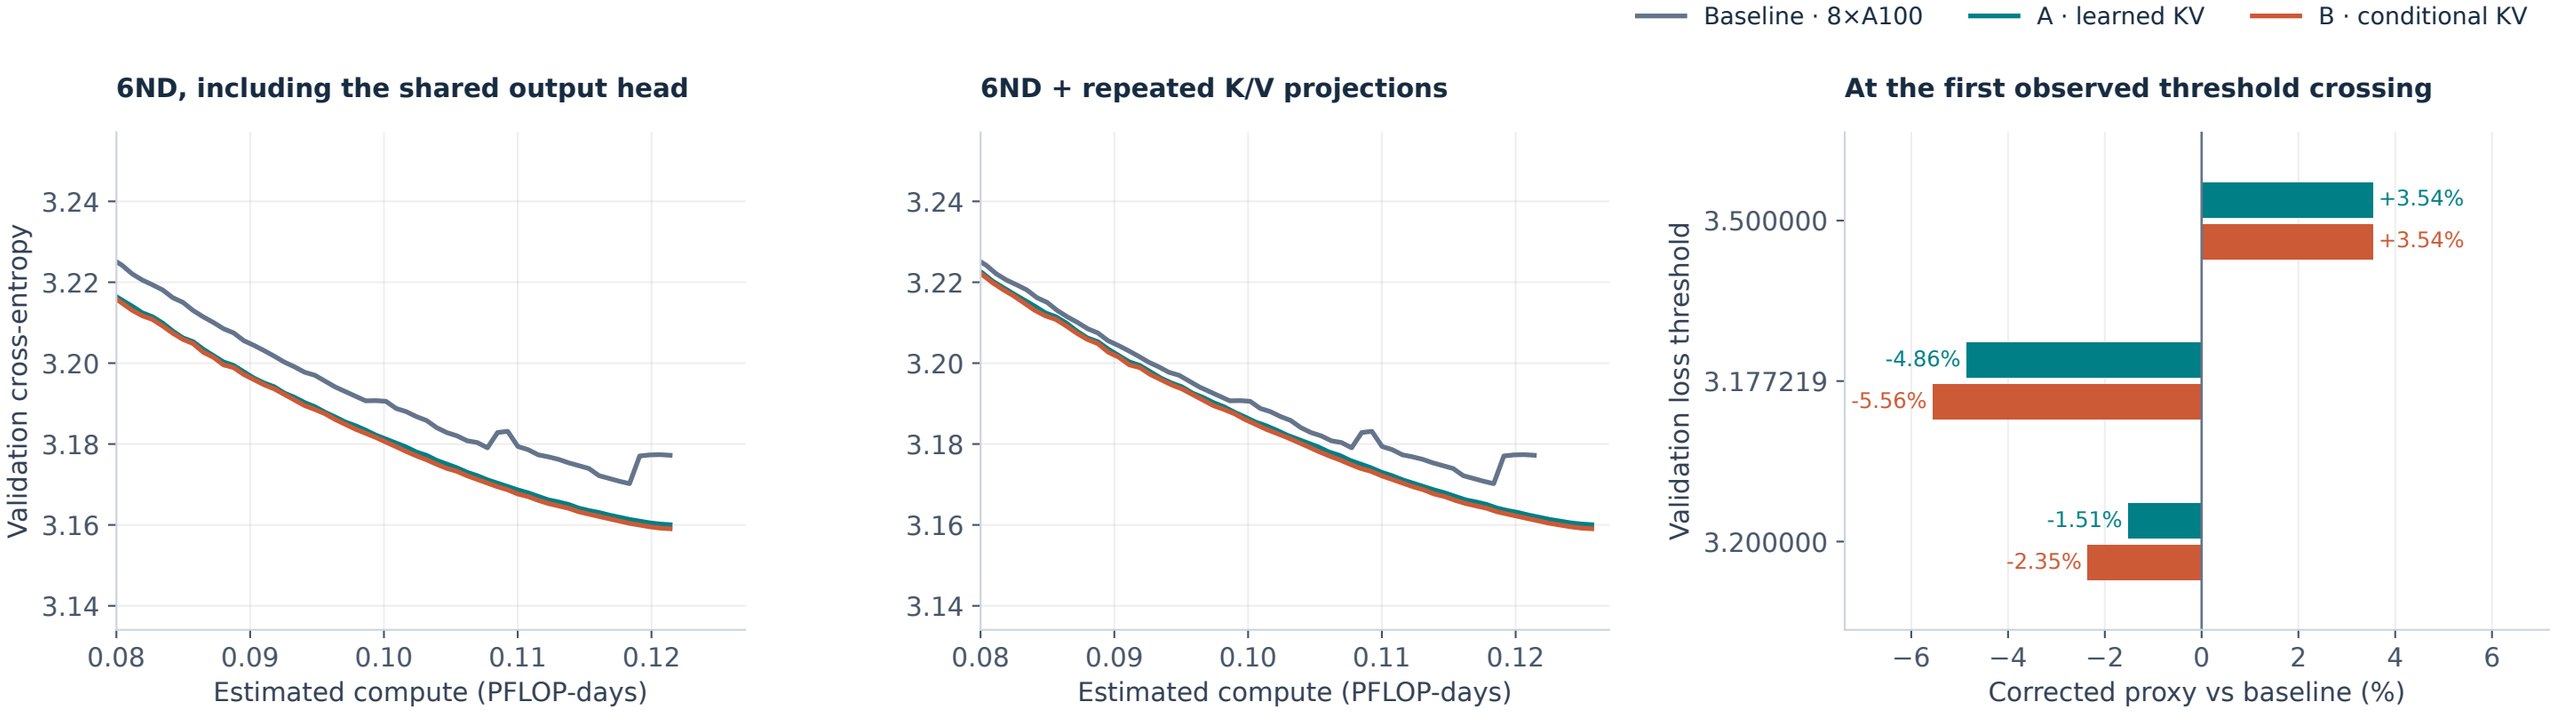
Compute–loss comparison: the accounting convention matters



6ND is a proxy, not measured device FLOPs. The correction adds the five extra shared K/V projections in A/B.
Missing baseline threshold crossings are marked explicitly; they are never represented by zero compute. Resolution: 250 updates.
Baseline: 8×A100; A/B: 8×A800. These descriptive curves do not establish measured hardware efficiency.